Web Dev S2018 Sec B

Mid Term Proposal:
Conept for Consultancy

Liam Panero

Concept:

A friend talked to me about the idea of consultnacies, specificly around product design developement. The Idea sounded cool but I could tell a website's design would be hard while starting because any "previous work" pages would be barren at first (their prior work protected by NDA). The question is how could such a business have a compelling site without a library of previous work.
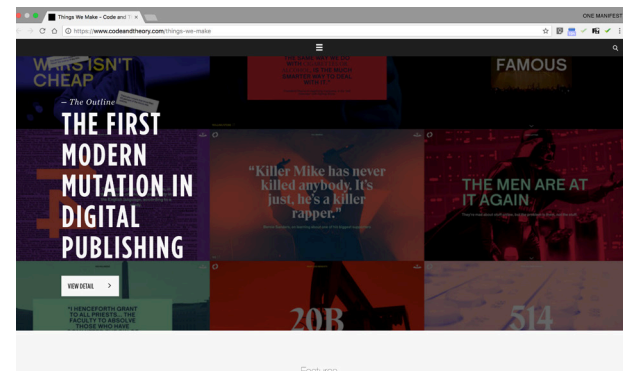

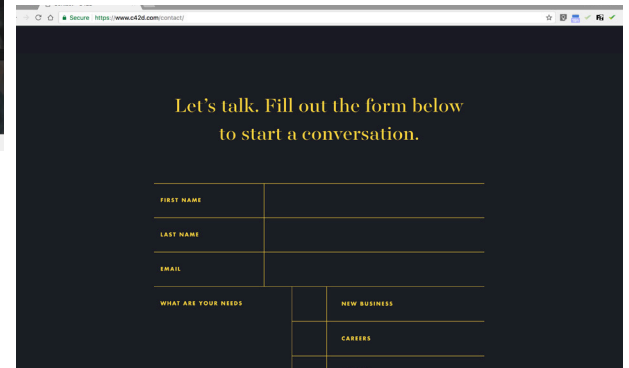

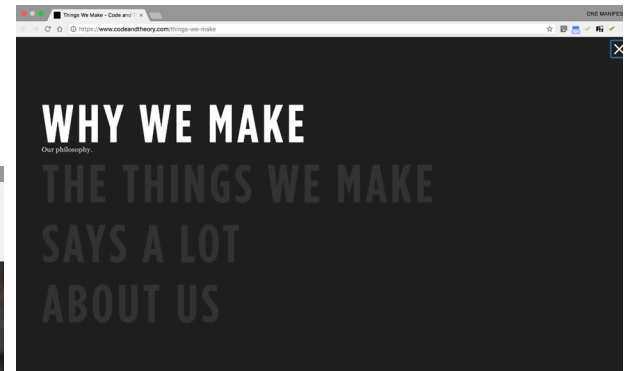

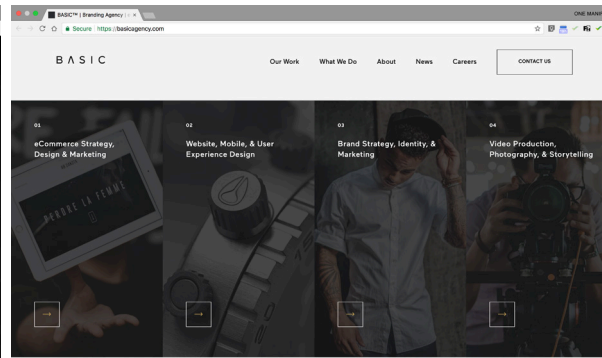

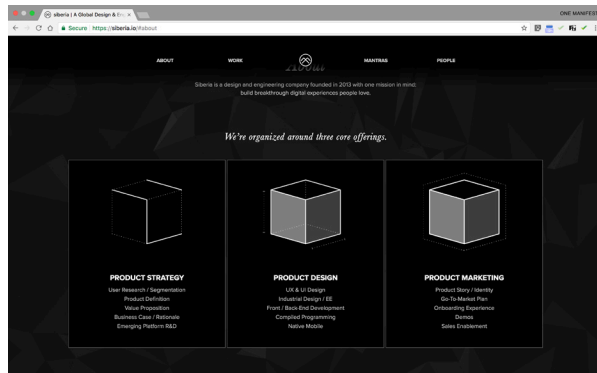

My theory a site designed around storytelling the mindset and methodology in a minimulist style could be effecitive evenwithout a previous work library.
